\ud83c\udf1f\ud83c\udf1f\ud83c\udf1f\ud83c\udf1f\ud83c\udf1f. So I had this game on my wishlist since I saw it on upcoming on steam and bought it instantly on release.

This game is about a guy called Seamus, who was too curious and jumped into a canalisation. Now he has to solve puzzle, where he has to get a cube to a specific area, to escape this madness.

The puzzles are seperated into five world each with 13 level, so quite a lot of puzzle to solve.

To solve these about 60 puzzle you first begin with one tool, a magnet, with it you can grab metal cubes and some metals board.

Later you also get a portal gun, a merge gun, which merges several cubes to one object so you can grab all of them at once with the magnet and a magnetizing gun, which makes cubes magnetic, so they attract other metal cubes.

Overall the puzzles aren't that hard except a few and at the end you will also have an endboss, which was kinda annoying in my opinion, but not that big of a deal.

So if you like puzzle games, you should buy this game, because it's totally worth it's price, because you will have fun with that game for about 3-4 hours. :)
